Introduction

Public Sector Companies (PSCs) play a critical role in delivering essential services and driving socio-economic development. However, the nature of these organisations often exposes them to unique ethical challenges, such as conflicts of interest, transparency issues, and governance complexities. In recent years, stakeholders have placed increasing emphasis on the importance of ethical behaviour and integrity within PSCs, calling for greater accountability, transparency, and adherence to ethical standards.

This training programme is designed to equip participants with a comprehensive understanding of the ethical challenges that arise in public sector operations and governance. Through a blend of theoretical insights, practical case studies, and interactive discussions, participants will explore the key ethical principles and standards that guide decision-making in PSCs. The course will delve into effective strategies for fostering a culture of ethics, preventing unethical practices, and promoting integrity at all organisational levels.

Participants will also learn about the role of leadership in maintaining ethical conduct, the impact of ethical behaviour on organisational reputation and public trust, and the development of robust ethical frameworks to support compliance. By the end of this training, participants will be empowered to address ethical dilemmas confidently, ensure compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, and contribute to building a transparent and accountable public sector environment.
